

ASP Ultra Handcuffs

www.handcuffwarehouse.com

ASP's revolutionary new design represents a major advance in handcuff technology. The Ultra handcuffs are made with a forged aluminum external frame that is extremely strong and rigid yet lightweight. This makes them substantially more rigid than the standard ASP handcuffs that are made with a steel inner frame and polymer over-mold. This ensures that they swing through accurately without the possibility that they will flex out of alignment when arresting an uncooperative suspect. ASP Ultra handcuffs include all of the advanced features of their other handcuffs including smooth rounded edges and conical bows, double sided keyways, and interchangeable lock sets.
